Collins was on his way home from a meeting at the County Kildare, when the attack occurred.

GERMANY AND RUSSIA SIGN DUAL TREATY

Brest-Litovsk Pact Nullified By New Agreement at Genoa

ACTION SURPRISES
Disarmament Conference for Europe Looms After Present Confab

GENOA, April 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—A treaty between Germany and Russia was signed at Rapallo yesterday, the signatories being the foreign ministers of the two countries, George Tchitcherin for Russia and Dr. Walter Rathenau for Germany.

The treaty nullifies the Brest-Litovsk treaty and reestablishes full diplomatic relations on a full equality basis.

The pact cancels all war claims, as well as claims arising from the nationalization of property.

The treaty negotiations began many months ago, it was said.

This action by delegates to the Genoa economic conference, in meeting independently and negotiating a treaty outside the scope of the conference itself, is pointed to as establishing a striking precedent for the nations who are participating in the discussion of the Russian problem here.

In connection with the mutual renunciation of claims and war claims, the treaty expressed the friendly hope that other powers would do likewise.

RATHER RUDE SURPRISE

Announcement of the signing of the treaty came as a rather rude surprise to the Genoa conferees and it was pointed to by observers as likely to make more difficult the position of some of the allies in their attitude toward Russia.

By the new treaty, replacing the Brest-Litovsk pact, which has been humiliating to the soviet leaders, Germany is the first great power to grant Russia full recognition. Poland and the Baltic states have long had diplomatic relations with the soviet government but Germany has been withholding recognition because of failure to obtain satisfaction of the claims of the Russian revolutionaries.

The signing of a formal treaty superseding the historic Brest-Litovsk pact of early 1918, was contemplated by the plenipotentiaries of the two nations at Genoa.

The treaty of Brest-Litovsk was a sequel to the armistice between Germany and Russia signed at that place on Dec. 4, 1917, following the rise of the Bolsheviks to power in Russia.

Peace negotiations were begun between Russia and Germany in 1918, but demands of the central powers were considered excessive by Russia which refused to consider them.

RUSSIA QUILTS WAR

The next move by Russia was to announce on February 16, that she had withdrawn from the war without signing a peace and had ordered immediate demobilization of the troops.

This move did not satisfy the Germans, however. Declaring the war was still on by their renewed invasion of Russia but this was speedily cut short by a declaration by the Russian government that it accepted the terms formerly declined, and the signing at Brest-Litovsk on March 3, of the treaty now superseded.

As indicated these terms were virtually dictated by the central powers. Although war indemnities were renounced, Russia agreed to resign all claims to Finland, Estonia, Livonia, Courland, Lithuania, Russia, Poland and the Ukraine to return all the Anatolian province to Turkey, and to evacuate Russian Armenia.

TREATY ABROGATED

This treaty was effective, so far as its continuing provisions were concerned, however, only so long as Germany remained in the war. With her defeat, Germany, in the treaty of Versailles, agreed to accept the abrogation of the Brest-Litovsk and all other treaties entered into with the Maximilian government of Russia, to recognize the full force of all treaties entered into by the allied and associated powers, with states which were a part of the former Russian empire, and to recognize the frontiers as determined therein.

It was added that the powers reserved the right of Russia to

FREAK CAPERS REPORTED AT STORM'S WAKE

Illinois Central Depot Carried 200 Feet and Safety Deposited

TWISTER KILLS BABY

Box Car Taken From One Track and Placed on Another

CHICAGO, April 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—The storm which hit the central states last night and this morning are believed to have killed at least eight persons, injured dozens, left scores homeless, and caused damage which probably will run into millions of dollars. Kansas, Indiana and Illinois were touched by the tornadoes, southern Illinois receiving the brunt of the disturbances.

The full extent of the damage in Illinois and Indiana could not be learned because telephone and telegraph lines were demolished wherever the storms struck.

BABY IS KILLED

CENTRALIA, Ill., April 17.—Unverified reports stated that seven persons had been killed and about 35 injured, some seriously in the tornado which struck this section early today. One woman was reported killed at Lake Centralia, ten miles north of here.

One baby was killed and two persons are in a hospital here in a critical condition as the result of the tornado which struck Irvington, south of here about midnight.

Mrs. Gus Droege, the extent of whose injuries has not been determined, and Ernst Collars, a railroad employee who is suffering from a broken back were treated enroute to this city from Irvington on a special train. A number of other injured persons were taken to the hospital here today. The number not being learned early today, remained in Irvington. The majority are not considered serious.

SEARCH FOR RELATIVES

Residents here were enroute to the wrecked town this morning to search for relatives who might be in need of aid. No line of communication has been restored at 4 o'clock.

The Illinois Central depot was lifted from its foundation and carried about 200 feet by the twister and was then safely deposited, remaining intact. No light was maintained at Irvington.

FREAKS OF STORM

A box car on a siding was turned completely around and placed on a parallel track without any great damage.

The storm first struck here, traveling toward Irvington. The local telephone exchange and electric light plant was put out of commission. Early this morning, however, were working to restore communication.

This town is littered with trees, telegraph poles and debris which fell in the wake of the twister.

The Illinois Central train from Centralia to Irvington carried eight doctors any two or three nurses, it was learned here this morning.

Unconfirmed reports said a twister cut a swath a block wide and about a mile long in the vicinity of Shookville on the Southern railroad. A mile of telephone pole was leveled by the wind.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—The government today won in the supreme court in the case brought by the United Shoe Machinery Corporation and others to have set aside the restraining order prohibiting them from using certain lease clauses in their contracts for the rental of patented machinery.

MOB OF 3000 STARTS DRIVE ON CITY'S VICE

Drops Lynching Plans to Launch Cleanup Campaign

HAYNEVILLE, La., April 17.—Persuaded to wait until the man they were after had been identified by his alleged victim, a mob variously estimated at 200 to 500, which surrounded the Haynesville jail last night bent on taking Ralph Coleman, suspect in the assault and robbery of Tony Pierce left 100 of its members at the jail and started on a "cleaning" of Haynesville.

As the crowd went about its self appointed task, it grew rapidly until by the time it started for Oil Center and Baucum it was the announced intention of cleaning those oil field settlements also—it had grown to 3,000.

The mob visited hotels and rooming houses notifying certain men and women among their occupants to pack up and depart and then went to the negro quarter and gave orders to about three quarters of the population to leave. Doors and windows were smashed at several places, but none of the negroes or others warned to leave was injured.

The assault from which the excitement developed occurred when Pierce was on his way home. He was struck on the head and robbed of $100 which he said he had received from his sister in California earlier in the day. He was unconscious when found and had not fully recovered, it was stated after an examination of the wound. Meanwhile as police were searching for the highwayman, a reward fund was being raised by subscription.

German Business Man Held in Moscow Prison Says Cries of Victims Sickened Him

BERLIN, April 17.—Fritz Nolde, a German business man who has just been released from Butirka prison in Moscow and returned to Berlin, declares there has been no modification of the treatment there since the Moscow government announced that the dreaded cheka and its methods were things of the past.

Nolde said that from his cell window looking on the prison courtyard, he saw naked men branded with hot irons and heard the cries of the victims. His experiences in the soviet prison were so much more horrible than the shell fire and hardships that he endured in the world war that there was no comparison, he declared.

Several Hungarian officials released with Nolde bore out his assertions concerning the cruelties inflicted upon prisoners.

REVOLUTION IN RUSSIA IS AIM OF SEMENOFF

General Was on His Way to Confer With Grand Duke Nicholas

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Suggestion that General Semenov, now in jail in New York, was en route to Paris for the purpose of meeting on opinion the subject of the impression was given today that Mr. Bakmeteff still might reasonably be regarded as a full fledged ambassador despite the fact that the Kerensky government which sent him here, went out of existence five years ago.

The state department is understood to be preparing to call the attention of the senate labor committee to the usual diplomatic immunity of foreign ambassadors in connection with the committee's subpoena of Boris Bakmeteff, the last accredited Russian ambassador here, to testify in its investigation of the affairs of General Gregor Semenov.

A protest against the committee's summons is understood to have been communicated to the department by embassy officials and although no one at the department would express an opinion on the subject the impression was given today that Mr. Bakmeteff still might reasonably be regarded as a full fledged ambassador despite the fact that the Kerensky government which sent him here, went out of existence five years ago.
